
Unit 4:10 Character Relationship Chart

Character relationships are very important to a story. To truly understand a story you have to understand the relationship of all the characters to each other not just the main character. Using the following chart write words that will describe the relationship of the characters in your story.

Draw a figure that represents your feelings towards two other people in your life and their feelings towards you.